

Become a VCC International Orientation Volunteer!

What it's about

On Tuesday, August 28 and Wednesday, August 29 VCC International Education will host orientations for new international students. Each orientation will run from approximately 8:30am to 3:00pm and will take place at the Downtown Campus.

What we are looking for

All volunteers are enthusiastic, outgoing international students who are currently in a VCC program or will be returning as an international VCC student in September.

What volunteers will do

Volunteers will assist with the check-in and greeting process, mingle with new students and be available to answer questions about their program and experiences at VCC.

All volunteers must commit to a 2.0 hour training session on Monday, August 27 and be available for at least one of the orientations on either Tuesday, August 28 and/or Wednesday, August 29.

What the benefits are

Volunteering has many benefits. Volunteers:

- √ feel great about helping others and meeting new people,
- √ develop new skills through training and learn even more about VCC,
- √ receive a reference letter from VCC International Education

NOTE: Hospitality students can utilize accumulated hours towards their program required work experience hours.

Are you ready?

All interested international VCC students must complete an application so that we can discuss your areas of interest and availability.

Fill in the 'International Student Orientation Volunteer Application' form and either email it to ieservices@vcc.ca or drop it off to the VCC International Education Office (Room 100, Downtown Campus, Monday to Friday from 9:30am to 3:30pm).
