Upgrade your English, mathematics or science skills with these instructor-lead courses. Vancouver Community College instructors teach courses that can improve reading, writing, speaking, and analytical skills and help prepare students for entrance into technical, college and university programs. You can take a number of courses to complete high school graduation and/or take single courses as prerequisites for programs at VCC such as university transfer and health sciences, or for programs at other institutions (BCIT, SFU, UBC, etc.).

VCC’s adult upgrading courses:
- small classes and greater support from instructors
- daytime and evening classes
